Subject: Email access to members on leave

Unclassified

Good morning;

During the Convoy Occupation, it had come to my attention that OPS members sympathetic to the anti mandate cause were away from work, either unpaid or on leave. A few OPS members were observed participating in the demonstration/occupation. These members still had access to OPS e-mails and INS call outs. Due to the state of emergency and believing this may have compromised OPS operations leading to the expulsion of the protesters, I requested IT remove all email access to these members. INS access was removed by EMBC.

Now the state of emergency is over, it may be time to revisit this decision. I have thought of 3 options for the OPS in regards to this matter:

- Continue the suspension of email access. This would limit the ability of the Service to communicate with members that are away from work.
- Re -instate the access to some members, provided PSS is in agreement that it will not compromise any outstanding matters pending.
- Re- instate Email access to all members.

I will await your thoughts on the matter.

Thank you

Michel Marin
